

Fund Charges including Transaction costs (June 2025)

FCA policy statement PS17/20 (Transaction Cost Disclosure in Workplace Pensions) places a duty on firms managing money on behalf of defined contribution workplace pension schemes to disclose administration charges and transaction costs to the governance bodies of those schemes to help in the assessment of value for money.

The table below fulfils part of this duty by disclosing the fund transaction costs. The table includes all the costs and charges that depend upon fund choice, but does not include product charges, which may apply in addition, and which are independent of fund choice. Further detail as to what is meant by transaction costs is described below.

Transaction costs

The transaction costs total comprises explicit and implicit costs incurred as a result of managing and investing the pension savings of relevant policyholders.

Following guidance from the FCA, all negative transaction costs have been set to zero. This includes the portion of the previous total cost figure that was reported as a negative.

Explicit costs

Explicit costs are the specific charges incurred when executing a transaction, such as broker commissions, exchange fees, the PTM levy, clearing fees, dilution levies or real estate acquisition and disposal costs.

Implicit costs

Implicit costs are not separately identifiable and are more difficult to measure. Implicit costs can include the following:

- Bid/ask spreads: The difference between the buy and sell price of a financial instrument.
- Delay cost: Market movements between the submission and execution of an order.
- Market impact: Market movement resulting directly from execution of a large order, resulting in a different price being achieved to the original bid-ask price; and
- Opportunity cost: Missed opportunity for return to be generated when an order is not fully completed.

There are several methods that can be used to estimate the implicit cost; however, the FCA has opted for the use of “slippage” methodology (which is in line with the Packaged Retail and Insurance-based Investment Products regulation), which attempts to capture the “loss of value” when a transaction takes place by comparing an asset price at the point in time when a decision is made to execute a transaction with the eventual price achieved. This methodology requires the use of data (the mid-market asset price) which would not previously have been recorded as part of the transaction, and so has required asset managers to build systems to capture these data.

Fund manager data availability

There are only two funds without the Defined Contribution Pensions Template (DCPT) data prescribed by the FCA in PS17/20. This equates to circa £30,000 in AUM within scope of the Governance Advisory Arrangement \(GAA\) on the Zurich platform. For those two funds, we have continued to use MIFID II data (signposted as EMT data), which allows us to report transaction cost figures for all funds in scope of the GAA. Please note in some cases, transaction costs have not been provided by the fund manager(s) for some components of the fund; the percentage available is shown in the Transaction Cost Availability column.

Notes:

The annual management charge and additional fund expenses are effective as of 17/11/2025. Transaction cost figures and AUM are as at 30/06/2025.

*The With Profits funds do not have annual management charges or additional fund expenses deducted in the same way as other funds; therefore only transaction costs have been provided. Other product-related charges may be

The fund manager provided an annualised figure based on the period 01/01/2017 - 23/06/2025.

Average transaction costs are the average of the annual reported transaction costs for a fund for the last five years.
