

Duty to Promote Success of the Company ('Section 172(1) Statement')

Section 172 ("s172") of the Companies Act 2006 requires the Board to promote the success of the Company for the benefit of its members as a whole and, in doing so, to have regard for the interests of stakeholders including shareholders, employees, suppliers, regulators and the wider society in which the Company operates.

The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Zurich Insurance Group ("ZIG" or "Group") and is subject to policies and governance arrangements set by ZIG, as well as local statutory and regulatory requirements. The Board derives its collective authority by direct delegation from its shareholder. Its key purpose is to ensure the Company's prosperity by collectively directing the Company's affairs while meeting the appropriate interests of its shareholder and relevant stakeholders.

The Board's principal aim is to ensure the fair treatment of the Company's stakeholders, while enhancing the Company's long-term value to its shareholder through the sustainable and compliant delivery of financial performance targets within a framework of prudent and effective controls.

During the financial year, the Board has considered the duty to promote the success of the Company when making decisions, including the:

- Likely consequences of any long-term decision
- Interests of employees
- Company's business relationships with suppliers, stakeholders and others
- Impact of the Company's operations on the community and the environment; and
- Maintenance of the Company's reputation for high standards of business conduct.

Long term decisions

The Board considers the interests of stakeholders as part of its overall long-term business objectives and continues to align the Company's strategic direction with the shareholder's aspirations for growth and sustainability. For each matter that is considered by the Board, stakeholders who may be impacted are identified and their interests considered as part of the Board's decision-making process.

Policies around anti-bribery and corruption

In accordance with section 414CB of the Companies Act, the Company is covered by the Zurich UK Financial Crime policy, including Anti-Bribery and Corruption. The content for guidance documents and local standards is driven by the content of ZIG policies, with the inclusion of UK specific legislation and regulations. The Fraud and Financial Crime Risk Management Framework is supported by policies, protocols, standards, guidance, and procedures that ensure a robust control environment. Documentation is subject to annual review and the Board is kept informed through quarterly reporting on key matters and any changes to the regulatory landscape.

Stakeholder engagement

The Board considers the interests of stakeholders as part of its overall long-term business objectives.

Employees

The Company has direct employees who then provide services for other companies within the ZIG group. The principal disclosures in respect of these staff are set out in the financial statements. The following summarises how the Board considered employees in its deliberations:

- The Board requested regular updates from the People team on employees. Insights into the workforce are provided with data such as headcount overall and by business area, turnover, and talent acquisition. Various items were presented to the Board throughout the year on People related topics such as employee relations (covering disciplinary Grievance and Dignity at Work), gender pay gap and employee engagement. In addition, the Board receives updates on the UK Health and Safety Risk Management Framework and ensures safe working environments and the physical and mental wellbeing of employees including insights from operational level Health and Safety Groups
- Employee engagement mechanisms included receiving regular updates on the results of employee surveys to keep fully apprised of employee engagement levels and the quality of leadership across the workforce, as well as a broad range of subjects including collaboration, working conditions, wellbeing, reputation, benefits and rewards, diversity and inclusion and responsible business
- Support for employees through its Flex Work scheme and Emergency Leave policy and regularly sought feedback and updates from senior management on morale and wellbeing; and
- The provision of a range of resources and tools through the Zurich UK Wellbeing hub to help employees keep active, healthy, and safe.

Suppliers

ZIG operates in a global sourcing environment, endeavouring to work with third parties and suppliers who operate responsibly, share Zurich values and adhere to the spirit of the Zurich Code of Conduct. All business partners are expected to embrace high standards of ethical and business conduct. The Company expects all its business partners to embrace high standards of ethical and business conduct. The following summarises how the Board considered suppliers in its deliberations:

- Recruitment processes include robust checks throughout the on-boarding journey, to ensure we do not employ individuals that are facing, or are involved in, enforced servitude. All Zurich staff, on an annual basis, are expected to complete code of conduct training which includes content around fair and compliant conduct, and the protection of human rights
- Employees directly involved with on-boarding and management of suppliers also receive additional UK supplier management training and are made aware of how to report any concerns
- Oversight of suppliers is the responsibility of the UK Chief Operating Officer. A governance framework is in place to support the supply management lifecycle and to ensure effective and efficient management of our suppliers. The framework ensures that a rigorous and diligent process is followed during the procurement process, whereby the third-parties structure, operations, culture, human resources, supplier and stakeholder relationships and future outlook are assessed
- The Board reviews and publishes its annual Modern Slavery Act statement, outlining how it mitigates the risk of slavery and human trafficking within its business and its supply chains. As part of this process, the Company has in place a Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy, which seeks to identify and manage such risks; and
- An integral aspect of Zurich's sustainability is our Supplier Code of Conduct (the "Code"), in which it provides clear guidance to ensure that our suppliers act in a manner that is compatible with our own ambitions. The Code sets out the environmental, social and ethical standards expected of our suppliers.

Communities

The Company believes in contributing positively to society and in having a positive impact on the communities in which it operates. The following summarises how the Company continues to consider its impact on communities:

- The UK Public Affairs team strives to make Zurich an influential and prominent voice in all aspects of the public policy process. Its primary focus is the identification and monitoring of key regulatory and legislative developments, and the communication of these to the wider business to determine whether to lead or support on any external engagement activity
- Zurich UK has an established policy of communicating with its employees through regular all employee emails and workplace updates to promote its commitment to risk management, compliance, good conduct, social responsibility, diversity and inclusion, and maintaining employee wellbeing

- There were a wide range of initiatives and activities that we have been involved with engaging with society. A complete description of these activities can be found on the following website: <https://www.zurich.co.uk/sustainability/people-and-society>; and
- The UK business has a long record of supporting charitable activities of Zurich Community Trust ("ZCT"). ZCT's Strategic Funding programmes focus on challenging social issues and support the most vulnerable in society. These programmes are wholly funded by the annual donations made to ZCT, by the Zurich UK businesses.

Sustainability

Sustainability is at the centre of the UK business and part of ZIG's purpose, which inspires us to leverage our business model to scale positive impact for stakeholders, people and planet and to build partnerships that can drive transformative change. The Group aims to have a positive impact in its role as an insurer, investor, employer and in society and manage its own environmental, social and governance risks. The UK Chief Sustainability Officer is responsible for Sustainability in the UK, which is at the centre of the Company's ambition to be known as one of the most responsible and impactful organisations in the world.

The Social Value Act (2012) increased demand with many Zurich customer requirements to provide information about our corporate responsibility and sustainability activity and targets; our Climate Transition Plan, published in 2023, outlines how we plan to reach net-zero. The Sustainability framework continues to build on the progress to date and aims to meet current and future needs of our stakeholders; and the Company will continue to use the levers as a global insurer to make a positive impact in the world.
